FEMININE GARMENT PROVIDING A SEXUALLY STIMULATING EFFECT

DESCRIPTION

SECTOR OF THE TECHNIQUE

5

Feminine underwear fitted with genital massaging devices.

STATE OF THE PRIOR ART

10

Various feminine lingerie garments are known, the patents of which are essentially characterized by the type of textile used, the effect of adherence to the body, the compression on the wearer or the comfort deriving from the shape of the garment. Many of these feminine items serve to produce a visually erotic arousal of the male partner, although no physical erogenous stimulation is provided to the female wearer by the lingerie itself.

Devices are also known to provide massaging of the genitals as used for therapeutic, playful or erogenous purposes, although these are mainly items either for male use or which are not a part of the underwear proper.

There is no background however on a garment worn over the waist, buttocks and groin by a female user, which, upon attachment of the front and rear of the garment by a chain of beads, is capable of causing an erogenous massaging effect on the female external genitalia for sexological therapy or for erotic or playful purposes.

30 OBJECT OF THE INVENTION

The invention consists in a feminine garment worn over the waist, buttocks and groin of the female user, characteristic in that the front and rear sections of the item are attached by a perineal string extending between the legs and formed by a lace with knots, a chain with thick links or a string of spherical beads fitted with one or more threads; the knots, links or beads are made of or covered by metal, mother-of-pearl or some other material of an appropriate hardness having suitable hygienic properties and that are easy to clean, the perineal string being worn as it hangs from the front of the garment after securing the ends of the garment with a front buckle, clasp or fastening means allowing for adjustment over the body, and which, in addition to covering the groin and anal zone and extending over the external female genitalia, perineum and anal cleft, produces a rubbing action on the outer and inner labia and the clitoris as a result of walking or leg movement, thereby causing the wearer's sexual stimulation and the consequent stimulation of her partner, the lingerie item also pursuing sexually therapeutic, playful or erotic aims.

The garment is characteristic in that it is worn over the waist, buttocks and groin by the female user, and in that a string of spherical beads of an appropriate hardness, in contact with the groin between the legs, connects the front and rear parts of the garment, which may consist of a belt fitted with said chain (Fig. 1); a tanga or panty made of textile material, the front and rear parts of which are connected by said chain (Fig. 2); an elastic girdle for compressing the abdomen, fitted with said chain (Fig. 3); a lingerie panty that replaces the groin covering textile part by said chain of beads; or an undergarment of the so-called body stocking type, a sweater or pyjama of any fabric that covers the abdomen and is fitted with a chain or string of beads connecting the front and rear parts of the garment and serving to produce the previously defined sexual stimulation effect.

PREFERRED EMBODIMENT OF THE INVENTION AS FORESEEN BY THE APPLICANT

The various forms of embodiment of this invention as 5 foreseen by the applicant are specified hereunder.

EXAMPLE 1

A belt made of leather, fabric or some other suitable 10 material is fitted with a ring attached to the front buckle which secures the end of a strong chain or string carrying separate spherical beads each having a longitudinal hole along its axis through which passes the chain or string, a further ring at the center of the rear section of the belt 15 being provided for attaching the other end of the string, of a length according to garment size and designed to exert pressure between the genital labia and the buttocks to thereby cause friction upon walking or movement of the legs, causing a subsequent sexual stimulation. The string 20 of beads may be detachably secured by knotting onto the front end ring hanging from the buckle, in such a way as to enable the user to adjust the pressure exerted by the chain, while the fastening may provide a decorative effect.

25 EXAMPLE 2

A bathing suit or tanga made of textile material wherein the front triangular fabric portion positioned over the groin and between the legs of the wearer is attached 30 through a chain of spherical beads extending between the buttocks to the rear part of the garment which surrounds the waist, the item being designed for sexual stimulation purposes as defined in the previous example.

An abdominal compression girdle made of elastic material and provided at the front lower edge thereof, at 5 the height of the groin, with a ring into which is inserted a chain of spherical beads, the other end of the chain being secured to a similar ring installed on the rear lower edge of the garment for said purpose of sexually stimulating the female wearer by friction caused from 10 walking or the movement of the legs.

EXAMPLE 4

A panty or lingerie underwear which, in similar 15 fashion to the bathing suit or tanga in Example 2, attaches the front textile portion covering the groin between the legs to a rear textile portion covering the buttocks by means of a chain or string of spherical beads made of hard material and capable of causing friction on the external 20 genitalia and between the buttocks to thus sexually stimulate the wearer.

EXAMPLE 5

25 A body stocking, sweater or pyjama-type garment which covers the abdomen, the front and rear of the garment being connected over the groin, genitals and buttocks with the same perineal string of beads to provide the same sexually stimulating effect.
